Now I am not afraid to speak up, be visible, and engage in life. My hope is that one day people will be able to look past things that don't really affect a person's abilities, and judge them on what they are capable of instead of their appearance.

She put off buying household supplies and the "dark, frilly dresses" that made her feel like a woman. After hormones, I'm mostly attracted to masculinity, male-identified people, and non-binary people. If there is any mutilation going on in this scene, it is being done by the feminist police force who rejects the lived embodiment of transwomen.

I experienced transition as a constant. The rates of masturbation have also changed. I was moved to tears and realized that it was time for me to allow myself to be the me I have always believed myself to be.
